A BULKY WASTE COLLECTION

PENRITH
CITY COUNCIL

So, what do you mean by “bulky waste”?

“Bulky waste” is the big stuff - items that are too bulky, too heavy or too big to be collected in your household bins.

How do I dispose of it?

It's easy! Council provides Penrith residents with four free collections every year, with each collection allowance being two cubic metres in size (roughly the same carrying capacity of a standard box trailer). Bulky waste collections can be arranged for a variety of household items — but remember, they must be booked first Got it! So, how do I book a bulky waste collection?

Bulky waste collections can be booked online at The Waste Spot.

A collection must be booked before your bulky items are placed at the kerbside, and should only be placed out the night before your scheduled collection date.

Before booking a collection, consider donating or selling any good quality used items.

Electronic waste can be dropped off at the Penrith Community Recycling Centre year-round, free of charge.

Please do not place chemical waste items such as paint (including empty tins), oil, gas bottles, fire extinguishers, pesticides, herbicides, house/pool cleaners, batteries and similar items out for collection with your bulky waste. Hold on to these until the next Household Chemical CleanOut event.

I've booked! What's next?

Once you've booked your bulky waste collection, place your items at the kerbside directly in front of your property no earlier than the night before your collection date. Any w should be placed in separate piles, with like-items grouped together as these are collected by separate trucks for recycling.

For larger amounts of bulky waste, multiple collections can be booked at the same time.
